

Uniform Policy

The uniform is seen as an important part of everyday school life. The key messages to students about the uniform are: i) a smartly dressed student population is a positive representation of our school, well-received in the community; ii) getting the small things right with dress and appearance allow a student to focus on the more important tasks of learning and achieving at school. All aspects of the uniform are compulsory. If any student continues to disregard the uniform code, the Principal and parents will deal with the issue together. An interview will be called to address the issue of support for Heritage Christian School's policies with regard to uniform. As an aspect of school identity and belonging, the uniform code is important, and a school-wide expression of support is essential.

School uniform is compulsory, and it is expected that the uniform be worn correctly and in a tidy manner.

- Uniform is available for purchase at Lowes, Settlement City, Port Macquarie
- All items except school shoes should be purchased from Lowes.
- No extra clothing that is visible can be worn. E.g.: T-shirts that show above the neckline or hemline of shirts or designs and logos that are visible through shirts.
- Shirts and blouses must not be visible below the level of jumpers and blazers.
